44th Annual Academy of American and International Law

May 20 - June 29, 2007

AT THE CENTER FOR AMERICAN
AND INTERNATIONAL LAW
PLANO, TEXAS, U. S. A.

- ▶ An intense business-oriented program focusing on commercial transactions
- ▶ Over the past 43 years, this program has attracted more than 2200 participants from 117 countries.

44th Annual
Academy of American
and International Law
May 20 - June 29, 2007

“Everything was perfect - the lectures, the organization, especially the hospitality that was extended to me by the Academy staff...the best experience in my life.”

- Former Academy participant

The Institute for International and Comparative Law of The Center for American and International Law will hold the 44th session of the Academy of American and International Law from May 20 through June 29, 2007.

The Academy gives lawyers and judges from outside the United States an opportunity to study American law and international business transactions. The six-week program is business oriented and addresses a wide range of law-related commercial topics.

Lecturers are drawn both from the academic community and from private law practice. In addition to the lectures, participants will work through two mock business transactions.

In 2006, the Academy hosted 66 participants from 31 nations. The 43 annual Academies have attracted more than 2,200 participants from 117 countries, including attorneys, judges, law professors and government officials.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

This program is for lawyers and judges from countries other than the United States who are interested in American law and international business transactions. It is particularly valuable for non-U.S. lawyers who work either for multi-national corporations or for law firms that represent either U.S. clients or multi-national clients with U.S. interests. It is not intended for the highly experienced international lawyer. The Academy has attracted many lawyers who have gone on to prominent positions in their home countries. Our goal is to provide a forum for those who are among the “best and brightest,” giving them an opportunity to gain important knowledge and experience about American and international law.

GENERAL INFORMATION

THE DALLAS EXPERIENCE

Our goal is to introduce Academy participants not only to the study of American and International Law, but also to the people and culture of the United States.

Education, of course, takes place both inside and outside the classroom. Participants are introduced to the Dallas community and the people of Texas. Each participant has the opportunity to be paired with a local host and the Academy schedule includes a rodeo, a major league baseball game, a Texas barbecue, and a visit to a Dallas law firm.

QUALIFICATIONS

Applicants must have a college degree and experience in one of the following fields: law, public service, economics, journalism, teaching, or business. They must reside or have domicile outside the United States. Applicants must have substantial ability to read, speak and understand the English language. Instruction is in English.

FELLOWSHIPS

Fellowships are available for a limited number of applicants. Fellowships usually include only tuition, and usually do not provide for lodging, meals or other expenses. For further information, please consult our website at www.cailaw.org/academy or contact the Center's office.

TUITION AND LIVING EXPENSES

Tuition for the six-week course is $8,000. This does not include travel or living expenses. Reduced or free tuition is available for members of the Institute for International and Comparative Law. You may join now (see the following pages) and take immediate advantage of member benefits.

Academy participants are housed together in one facility where we have negotiated a reduced room rate. Single, double and triple-occupancy suites are available at different prices. For those staying in the hotel, transportation is provided at no additional cost between the hotel and classes.

APPLICATIONS

An application form is included in this brochure. A full catalog may be viewed at our website at www.cailaw.org/academy. The Admissions Committee begins reviewing applications as they arrive. Applications should be submitted as early as possible, and they must be received by April 2, 2007.

BECOME A MEMBER

WOULD YOU LIKE TO BECOME A MEMBER OF THE INSTITUTE FOR INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW?

WHAT IS THE INSTITUTE FOR INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW?

Founded in 1963, the Institute is an international forum for continuing legal education. It sponsors three annual programs - the six-week Academy of American and International Law, a Symposium on Critical Global Markets which is a two-day advanced program on international business transactions, and a two-day program on International Corporate Compliance. Through its Advisory Board, the Institute also provides a valuable network, giving leading international lawyers an opportunity to meet and exchange ideas.

WHY SHOULD YOU BECOME A MEMBER?

Because the benefits are outstanding. You may join for as little as $1,000 a year. For a $2,500 sponsoring membership, you may send someone tuition free to the six-week Academy of American and International Law. You may appoint two representatives to the Institute's Advisory Board, which meets annually and which gives Advisory Board members the opportunity to exchange ideas with experienced colleagues on topical subjects. You may send your Advisory Board member and four other participants tuition free to the annual Symposium on Critical Global Markets. You also receive a discount to any new programs sponsored by the Institute, including the program on International Corporate Compliance which will next be held in February, 2007.

You may join now and take immediate advantage of member benefits. We encourage you to send someone to the 2007 Academy, which is described in greater detail in this brochure, and to appoint a representative to the Institute's Advisory Board. The Advisory Board meeting and the Symposium on Critical Global Markets take place the same week in June. We hope to see you then.
