LETTER FROM THE PRESIDENT

As President of The Center for American and International Law, I am thrilled to welcome you to our organization and express our gratitude for your continued support. We have been excited to celebrate our 75th anniversary and to share this significant milestone with you.

Since our founding 75 years ago, CAIL has been dedicated to providing high-quality education and professional development, fostering collaboration and promoting the advancement of the legal profession worldwide.

I am very pleased to have announced the recent appointment of Randall M. Ebner as Chairman of the Board. Randy brings a wealth of experience and expertise to our organization, and we are fortunate to have him serve in this critical leadership role. With his guidance and support, we are confident that we will continue to make great strides in advancing our mission.

As we embark on this milestone anniversary, we are reminded of the remarkable achievements of our organization and the incredible support we have received from our members, partners, and the broader legal community.

We are proud of what we have accomplished together and look forward to continuing to serve our communities in innovative and meaningful ways.

Our 75th anniversary celebration year promises to be a time of great excitement and reflection. We will be marking this milestone with a variety of special events, programming, and initiatives throughout the year. We are eager to celebrate with our members, partners, and the broader community as we reflect on our accomplishments and look forward to what the future holds.

I invite you to visit CAILAW75.ORG to learn more about our organization and the various programs and resources we offer. Our team is dedicated to supporting our members and the broader legal and law enforcement communities. The Center's mission to advance the administration of justice by educating and inspiring those professionals remains as important as it has been at any time in our long history.

Thank you for your continued support of CAIL, and we look forward to celebrating our 75th anniversary year together. Our commitment to excellence has never wavered, and we will continue to push the boundaries of what is possible to promote the rule of law and advance the legal and law enforcement professions.

Sincerely,

Thomas (T.L.) Cubbage

WHAT IS THE RULE OF LAW?

"The rule of law is something different than governmental power. The main element of this distinction is the extent of discretion permitted in the administration of justice. . . . When justice is administered by untrained men with almost unlimited discretionary powers, you no longer have rule of law."

- Robert Storey, Founder
The Southwestern Legal Foundation
(now The Center for American and International Law)

OUR HISTORY

CAIL's inspiring origins trace back to the visionary Robert Storey, a prominent Dallas lawyer who served as executive trial counsel to Justice Robert H. Jackson during the historic Nuremberg Trials that followed World War II.

Fueled by his profound experiences, Storey founded the Southwestern Legal Foundation in 1947, which has since evolved into the dynamic and trailblazing Center for American and International Law (CAIL). As a non-profit institution, CAIL is dedicated to providing legal education and professional development to lawyers and law enforcement officials in the United States and around the world.

Storey's vision and CAIL's tireless efforts to provide exceptional education have been instrumental in enhancing the quality of justice and promoting the rule of law for 75 years. We take pride in our rich history and remain excited about the future, as we continue to equip legal and law enforcement professionals with the knowledge and skills needed to make a positive impact on the world.

At CAIL, we recognize the importance of promoting the rule of law as a critical foundation for stable and just societies.

CAIL's educational institutes have established internationally recognized forums and programs addressing law enforcement administration, energy law, international and comparative law, transnational arbitration, law and technology, criminal justice, and other relevant topics.

Our programs have empowered tens of thousands of lawyers and law enforcement officials from all 50 states and 130 countries, promoting high ethical standards, sharing best practices, and equipping them with cutting-edge knowledge and skills to uphold the principles of justice and fairness.

As we celebrate our 75th anniversary, we look back with gratitude for the significant impact CAIL has made on the legal and law enforcement communities, and we look forward to continuing to advance the quality of the justice system in the years to come.

Now more than ever, CAIL's programs improve the abilities of those who have the responsibility to protect the rights of others.

SPECIAL PROGRAMS

As THE CENTER FOR AMERICAN AND INTERNATIONAL LAW marks its 75th anniversary, we reflect on our enduring commitment to advancing justice through the education of lawyers and law enforcement professionals in the United States and across the globe.

We have come a long way since our founding in 1947, and as we embark on a yearlong celebration of CAIL's rich HISTORY, we aim to underscore the significance of the rule of law in building a thriving civil society.

Over the past 75 years, CAIL's multifaceted approach – encompassing programs, research, conferences, publications, and events – has elevated industry standards and indirectly benefited countless communities both within the United States and internationally.

The 75th anniversary festivities began on January 26, 2022 with a special virtual event, "PURSUING JUSTICE: A CONVERSATION WITH JUDGE PATRICK HIGGINBOTHAM & PROFESSOR MICHAEL TIGAR."

The event featured an insightful dialogue between the Hon. Patrick Higginbotham, United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit judge, and Professor Michael E. Tigar, a renowned American criminal defense attorney and human rights activist, with Thomas (T.L.) Cabbage moderating.

In March, CAIL presented another virtual event, "PROMOTING THE RULE OF LAW: DISCUSSIONS CONCERNING THE CRISIS IN EASTERN EUROPE" featuring Jonathan Bush, professor at Columbia University Law School.

The conversation featured expert perspectives to inform the public about global issues arising from Russia's invasion of Ukraine and the legal mechanisms that can be used to hold people accountable for instigating wars of aggression.

To provide an immersive multimedia experience, CAIL also unveiled a dedicated 75th Anniversary microsite at CAILAW75.ORG. We invite you to visit the site to revisit CAIL's rich history, read articles, learn about the 75th anniversary events, and more!

We eagerly anticipated commemorating this landmark year and continued to build on our vision, ensuring CAIL's lasting influence for generations to come.

75TH CAMPAIGN

Contributions to this campaign will fortify CAIL's diverse initiatives, leaving a lasting, transformative imprint on the justice system.

SPECIAL EVENTS

Throughout the year, four notable events will occur, each thoughtfully designed to celebrate and advance different aspects of the Rule of Law.

VISITING FELLOWS

Celebrated human rights lawyer Hauwa Ibrahim and the Hon. Jimmie Edwards, former St. Louis 22nd Circuit judge, will represent CAIL at events.

THE GALA

The year's celebrations will culminate in a 75th Anniversary Gala and Great Leaders Award presentation honoring Senator Kay Bailey Hutchison.

GRANTS PROGRAMS

CAIL's grant-funded programs were among the recipients of funds awarded by the TEXAS COURT OF CRIMINAL APPEALS to provide continuing legal education courses, programs, and technical assistance projects to judges, court personnel, prosecuting attorneys and their personnel, and criminal defense attorneys who regularly represent indigent defendants in criminal matters and their personnel, and law enforcement officers.

Our CRIMINAL LAW AND ACTUAL INNOCENCE PROGRAMS had an impactful year focused on digital programming due to ongoing challenges with in-person meetings caused by the COVID-19 pandemic.

GRANT PROGRAMS BY THE NUMBERS (2021-2022)

PROGRAMS OFFERED	PROGRAM REGISTRANTS

CAIL offered on-demand webinars to constituents across the State of Texas, covering a range of topics such as the impacts of psychological science or historical racial dynamics and bias on capital and non-capital defense litigation, forensics and evidence handling, forensic investigations involving misconduct, and emerging trends in capital and non-capital prosecution.

In 2022, the CRIMINAL LAW GRANT award allowed for the first broad Criminal Writs & Habeas Training held in Houston, Texas. The program brought together Texas lawyers from both the defense and prosecution, along with judges, to improve understanding of criminal writs by discussing practical applications and sharing hands-on tips for practitioners on both sides of the bar.

Additionally, CAIL provided both on-demand and in-person INNOCENCE TRAINING PROGRAMS exploring specific cases and cir-

OTHER CLE

CAIL also presents programming, Other CLE, that falls outside the scope of our five institutes.

We returned to New Orleans for our biennial Fifth Circuit Bankruptcy Bench-Bar Conference. Along with opportunities to reconnect, the conference included state-by-state breakfasts for Louisiana, Mississippi and Texas, plenary sessions, and breakout sessions focused on business and consumer issues.

The 2022 recipients of the Michelle Mendez Serviam Award were honored at a luncheon that also included a timely and thought-provoking presentation of "COVID's Effect on Businesses Along the Gulf Coast." The conference concluded with a plenary session on "Diversity in the Courtroom."

Additionally, Other CLE co-presented "Technology's Impact on Attorney Wellness" with CAIL's Institute for Law and Technology and, as it has done since 2019, recorded an update on Labor Law and Labor Arbitration.

EDUCATION CENTER

Completed in 2001, CAIL's education center in Plano, Texas, is a welcoming 44,500 square-foot facility designed by HKS Architects Inc.

Nestled on 7.5 acres, the two-story building serves as CAIL's administrative headquarters and educational venue. Its striking Jeffersonian-style dome, shown left, houses a fully-functional courtroom, blending historical elegance with modern functionality.

The main lobby showcases the Hall of Flags, representing countries that have participated in the Center's programs.

INN OF COURT

The Patrick E. Higginbotham American Inn of Court, chartered by the American Inns of Court Foundation in 1988 as the Dallas Inn of Court LVI, promotes professionalism, ethics, civility, and excellence among legal professionals who focus on litigation.

The Center for American and International Law has sponsored the Higginbotham Inn since the Inn was formed. The American Inns of Court movement has grown to include nearly 400 chartered Inns of Court in the United States and abroad, with almost 30,000 active members.

Judge Patrick E. Higginbotham of the United States Court of Appeals for the Fifth Circuit was instrumental in this Inn's formation and served as its first President. In January 1996, the Inn changed its name to honor Judge Higginbotham. Judge Higginbotham also served as President of the American Inns of Court Foundation from 1996 to 2000.

CAIL board member John Eichman (The Eichman Firm, Dallas, TX) is the current president of the Higginbotham Inn of Court.

RESEARCH FELLOWS

The Research Fellows of The Center for American and International Law may be well described as defenders of great traditions.

The programs they support give ample evidence of their manifold purpose of contributing to the improvement of the administration of civil and criminal justice and to acknowledge the accomplishment in these vital areas of civilized life under law.

Since 1957, Research Fellows have been selected from all aspects of business, legal, and social communities.

INSTITUTE HIGHLIGHTS

During fiscal year 2022, THE INSTITUTE FOR LAW ENFORCEMENT ADMINISTRATION (ILEA) had a successful run, with 27 programs and 809 program registrants.

ILEA BY THE NUMBERS (2021-2022)

1957 FOUNDING YEAR	27 PROGRAMS OFFERED
809 PROGRAM REGISTRANTS	109 INSTITUTE AGENCIES

ILEA saw its supervision programs continue to excel. The SCHOOLS OF POLICE SUPERVISION, TEXAS SERGEANT ACADEMIES and POLICE SUPERVISION 101 all saw growth in participants as ILEA delivered these schools in Plano, Lubbock, League City, Harlingen, Southlake, Denton, and Watauga.

These programs equipped and inspired police supervisors for the challenges of the fast-paced and fluid world of law enforcement leadership.

In December, ILEA held the annual CONTEMPORARY ISSUES AND ETHICS CONFERENCE to discuss emerging technologies and the call for social justice in law enforcement.

ILEA's 59TH SCHOOL OF EXECUTIVE LEADERSHIP held in March focused on strategic planning, crisis management, and ethical leadership, ensuring that senior law enforcement executives have the necessary skills and knowledge to lead their organizations through the challenges of the 21st century.

In addition to its training programs, ILEA made several significant announcements during the fiscal year.

In December 2021, ILEA hired retired police captain MATTHEW "MATT" CLEM as ILEA's Deputy Director.

In March 2022, ILEA hired retired Richardson Police Department sergeant FRANK BRADFORD as its full-time lecturer.

Overall, ILEA's programs have made significant contributions to the law enforcement community in Texas and throughout the United States, promoting best practices and innovation, and creating a safer and more equitable community for all.

The organization's commitment to excellence in law enforcement education and training has made it a leader in law enforcement training in Texas and throughout the United States. ⁴¹³

Southwestern Institute for INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW

INSTITUTE HIGHLIGHTS

The SOUTHWESTERN INSTITUTE FOR INTERNATIONAL AND COMPARATIVE LAW (SWIICL) had a successful fiscal year in 2022, marked by the return of its flagship program, the 57TH ACADEMY OF AMERICAN AND INTERNATIONAL LAW, after a two-year hiatus.

SWIICL BY THE NUMBERS (2021-2022)

1964 FOUNDING YEAR	3 PROGRAMS OFFERED
344 PROGRAM REGISTRANTS	41 INSTITUTE MEMBERS

Although the Academy had lower attendance numbers due to COVID-19 restrictions and visa challenges, it still featured 29 outstanding students from 17 countries who participated in classes taught by distinguished law professors and top legal professionals.

The Academy's curriculum included interactive and small-group sessions, practical simulations, and presentations, providing a comprehensive educational experience for its students.

Academy students were hosted at several Fort Worth social functions, a Frisco RoughRiders baseball game, and a TopGolf outing. Academy participants also visited the Collin County Courthouse, where they attended a mock voir dire and later participated in a mock trial at CAIL's education center.

SWIICL also continued its DEAN ROBERT G. STOREY LECTURES, which featured an interview with BERNARD HANOTIAU, a world-renowned transnational arbitrator and alumnus of the Academy of American and International Law.

The program's theme was ARBITRATION AND THE RULE OF LAW: BEFORE, DURING, AND AFTER THE PANDEMIC, and it attracted registrants from 61 countries.

The ANNUAL SYMPOSIUM, held remotely, focused on the topic of GLOBAL BUSINESS: PEACEBUILDING WHILE DOING BUSINESS IN AN IMPERFECT WORLD.

Distinguished professors, private practitioners, and in-house counsel led discussions on how businesses can be agents for sustainable development, the reaction of businesses to Russia's invasion of Ukraine, and corporate diplomacy. SWIICL's Annual Symposium attracted registrants from 29 countries.

SWIICL also began the process of planning significant changes to its membership structure, programming, and alumni association, which will further enhance its offerings and better serve its members.

Overall, SWIICL had a productive and successful fiscal year, providing valuable educational and professional opportunities to students and legal professionals from around the world.

The 73RD ANNUAL ENERGY LAW CONFERENCE, the 20TH ANNUAL ENERGY LITIGATION CONFERENCE, and the IEL CONFERENCE ON RENEWABLE PROJECT DEVELOPMENT were all hybrid events, offering in-person and online options for attendees.

After a successful two-year term, LAURA ROBERTSON of ConocoPhillips stepped down as Chair of the Advisory Board, and MICHAEL P. LENNON, JR. of Mayer Brown LLP, stepped into the role.

KRISTI MCCARTHY of Chevron was appointed as the new Senior Vice Chair.

The fourth LEADERSHIP CLASS also met in person for their retreat. It continued their sessions online with top industry professionals such as David McAtee, Bill Ide, Eric Koester, and Amy Conway-Hatcher.

The DIVERSITY, EQUITY & INCLUSION COMMITTEE remained a key focus for IEL as they sought ways to continue the conversation on DE&I in the energy and legal industries.

Looking ahead to the next fiscal year, IEL plans to continue to adapt its programming to the needs of its membership and make the organization more accessible to energy professionals around the world.

With a successful year behind them and plans for continued growth and evolution, the Institute for Energy Law is well-positioned to remain a leading resource for legal professionals in the energy industry. ⁴¹

ILT welcomed CLINT WILKINS, PH.D., as the new vice chair of its advisory board, succeeding LARRY K. BASSUK.

Dr. Wilkins, a respected technology and intellectual property law expert, brings a wealth of experience and knowledge to ILT, which will help it continue to grow and excel in the years ahead.

ILT's new YOUNG TECHNOLOGY PROFESSIONALS (YTP) group was also launched during this fiscal year. The YTP group aims to provide a platform for young professionals in the field to connect, learn, and grow in the field of technology and intellectual property law. Looking ahead, ILT has exciting plans for the future. It will be returning to in-person conferences and events while also continuing to utilize online platforms for webinars and e-learning opportunities.

ILT plans to expand its membership levels, with new levels for in-house counsel, young technology professionals, and full-time students. These new membership levels will help ILT reach a wider audience and provide more opportunities for professionals to connect and grow in their fields.

Overall, ILT's conferences, webinars, and seminars offered insights into the latest developments in intellectual property and technology law, while also providing a platform for networking and collaboration among industry experts. ⁴¹
