COURSE OVERVIEW

8/3 - 8/4

Police and Family Workshop

A Program for Improving Police Family Relationships

A strong and healthy home environment is the foundation of a high performing law enforcement officer. Just as the physical body needs good food and regular exercise to operate at peak performance, a relationship also needs to be fed and strengthened.

The Police and Family Workshop is an arena where family members can engage with each other in a new way, discovering deeper levels of understanding and revisiting values that keep the family together.

Participants will take away tools to improve connection and increase intimacy. Both LEOs and their loved ones will find their voices through the interactive exercises in a safe environment. Join us for this worthwhile investment of your time.

Faculty

Catherine Nanton, MBA has more than 30 years of training experience. She began her career as a police officer with the PEEL Regional Police Service. She left as a Sergeant and pursued an academic career as a professor where she taught and coordinated several areas of public safety leadership; transformational leadership; emotional intelligence; and personality and temperament. She has trained internationally in her area of expertise.

Colin Nanton, ThM has 13 years of policing experience and specialized in the field of criminal investigation. He has been providing training, executive coaching and consulting services for the past 20 years with various organizations in Canada and the United States.
