COURSE OVERVIEW

10/7 - 10/18 & 11/04 - 11/15

Hosted by

School of Police Supervision

What's a supervisor? What's a leader?
What's the difference?

This four-week school is designed for first-line supervisors and middle-level management. It should be of interest to law enforcement agencies concerned with the professionalism of their management team. The curriculum focuses on the transition from “street policing” to the challenges of the fast paced and fluid world of law enforcement leadership, including the social and personal adjustments. This course will meet the basic requirements established by TCOLE for the preparation of new supervisors for their supervisory role. Successful graduates of this course will receive credit for TCOLE New Supervisor’s Course 3737.

Selected Topics

- Role Identification and Transition
- Excellence in Policing, The Concepts of Legitimacy and Procedural Justice
- Honoring Boundaries
- FLSA
- Diversity for Law Enforcement
- Reset the Clock: Replace Liability with Credibility

Who Should Attend?

This course is aimed at newly promoted sworn and civilian supervisors; however, veteran supervisors in need of basic supervisory training will also find this course beneficial.
