

BIOGRAPHIES

GERALD AKSEN is a full time arbitrator and ADR neutral. He is a retired partner of Thelen Reid & Priest LLP, New York, where he was the firm specialist in arbitration and alternative dispute resolution. He is immediate past president of the College of Commercial Arbitrators and immediate past vice chairman of the ICC International Court of Arbitration. He has chaired and acted as sole or co-arbitrator in ad hoc proceedings and under the rules of numerous institutions in over 200 cases and has participated as advocate or arbitrator in 18 different countries. Mr. Aksen has a broad background in the dispute resolution field, having been an arbitrator, advocate, academic (adjunct professor, New York University School of Law) and administrator (general counsel, American Arbitration Association), and is a frequent speaker and lecturer on international arbitration. He is a 1958 graduate of New York University School of Law.

HENRI ALVAREZ, a partner of the law firm of Fasken Martineau DuMoulin LLP in Vancouver, British Columbia, Canada, acts regularly as an arbitrator and also as counsel in international and domestic commercial arbitrations, including arbitrations under the auspices of the International Chamber of Commerce, London Court of International Arbitration, the American Arbitration Association, International Centre Settlement of Investment Disputes and the British Columbia International Commercial Arbitration Centre. Mr. Alvarez is a Chapter 19 Panelist under the NAFTA. He has taught as an adjunct professor at the Faculty of Law, University of British Columbia since 1985 in the areas of international commercial arbitration and dispute resolution and has published and lectured widely on the topics of international commercial arbitration and international dispute resolution.

PIERRE BIENVENU, Partner, serves on the Executive Committee of Ogilvy Renault and heads the firm's Arbitration and ADR practice team. Practices international commercial arbitration, corporate commercial litigation as well as competition and constitutional law. Has acted as Counsel in numerous domestic and international arbitrations, both ad hoc and institutional, relating to telecommunications, aeronautics, international distribution, joint ventures and construction disputes. He regularly represents parties in setting aside or recognition and enforcement proceedings before Canadian courts. He is a member of the Canadian roster - ICC arbitrators, of the International Panel - ADR Chambers and of several other arbitral institutions. He is also an Alternate Member on NAFTA's 2022 Committee. He was Co-Counsel for the Government of Canada before the Supreme Court in the Reference concerning the secession of Québec. Also involved in many challenges to the constitutional validity of provincial and federal legislation.

R. DOAK BISHOP, Partner in King & Spalding's Houston Office and Chair of the firm's International Arbitration Practice Group, received his B.A. degree with high honors and departmental distinction from Southern Methodist University (1973), and his J.D. degree with honors from the University of Texas Law School (1976), Research Editor of the Texas Law Review. Mr. Bishop is Board Certified in Civil Trial Law by the Texas Board of Legal Specialization. He serves as Vice-Chair of the Institute of Transnational Arbitration; Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators and Chartered Arbitrator, Executive Committee of North American Chapter and is Member, U.S. delegation to the NAFTA Advisory Committee on Private Commercial Disputes; Adjunct Professor, SMU Law School (1999) (International Commercial Arbitration) and University of Houston Law School (2002) (Foreign Investment Disputes); Co-Chair, International Litigation Committee of ABA's Litigation Section (1998-2000); Editor, International Litigation Quarterly (1985-2000); Chair, Litigation Section of the State Bar of Texas (1998-1999). He served as sole, chair, party-appointed, and institution-appointed arbitrator in ICC, AAA, UNCITRAL, and CPR arbitrations and has substantial experience as counsel in ICSID arbitrations.

CHARLES N. BROWER has been a Judge of the Iran-United States Claims Tribunal in The Hague since 1983. He has been Acting Legal Adviser of the US Department of State, Deputy Special Counselor to the President of the United States, a member (since 1991) of the Register of Experts of the UN Compensation Commission, a member (since 1998) of the panel of Arbitrators and Conciliators of the International Centre for Settlement of Investment Disputes, and a member (since 1996) of the United States Secretary of State's Advisory Committee on Public International Law. He is a past President of the American Society of International Law and Chair of the Advisory Board of the Institute for Transnational Arbitration. He is a former partner, and now Special Counsel, at White & Case LLP in Washington, DC, where he has handled litigation in federal and state courts throughout the United States, including jury trials, bench trials and appeals, in a wide range of civil, administrative, and criminal proceedings, while specializing during the last 25 years in the handling of disputes involving States or State entities before international courts, tribunals, and commissions. He is also a member of 20 Essex Street Chambers in London.

BIOGRAPHIES

DOMINIQUE BROWN-BERSET is a partner of B•M•G Avocats, a Geneva-based law firm where she practices mainly in the field of international business transactions and international dispute resolution. She is a member of the Geneva Bar and holds law degrees from Lausanne University Law School, Switzerland (Licence en droit), Paris I, Panthéon-Sorbonne, France (DEA) and Harvard Law School (LL.M). She is Co-Chair of Committee D (Arbitration and Dispute Resolution) of the International Bar Association and International Vice-President of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators (London). She is a member of the Board of the Association Suisse des Juristes and of the Swiss Institute of Comparative Law. She has been acting as counsel or arbitrator in a broad range of international arbitration cases around the world, in particular in arbitration involving States and international organizations both at private and governmental levels, relating to transfer of technology, construction of turnkey factories and of other major projects, procurement contracts, license agreements, agency, joint venture and shareholders' agreements, distribution and sale and purchase agreements, warranties and representations in acquisition and the like.

DAVID BRYNMOR THOMAS is a partner in Herbert Smith, specializing in international commercial arbitration, with particular experience of disputes arising from all aspects of infrastructure and other major projects. He also advises on and drafts arbitration and other dispute resolution provisions and sits as both sole and party appointed arbitrator in institutional and ad hoc arbitrations. Mr. Brynmor Thomas acts as an Observer to the Arbitration Working Group of UNCITRAL and is a member of the Arbitration Practice sub-committee of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators, the AAA International Roster of Neutrals and the GCC Commercial Arbitration Centre Panel of Arbitrators.

STEPHEN D. BUTLER is managing counsel of Bechtel Corporation in San Francisco. He has over 30 years of domestic and international litigation and ADR practice in the public and private sectors with extensive experience in engineering, construction and related fields. His practice, both as an advocate and as an arbitrator/mediator, includes major commercial disputes involving infrastructure projects, power plants, refineries, pipelines, factories, bridges, dams, schools, sports facilities and highways. He has served as an advocate and arbitrator in a many complex domestic and international arbitrations in Europe and the Middle East. He is on numerous panels including the ICDR's, the AAA's Large Complex Case, and CPR's Distinguished Neutrals. He is a Fellow in the American College of Construction Lawyers and co-chair of the IBA's Construction Committee. He is the author of publications on litigation, ADR and construction industry subjects and is a frequent speaker at international and domestic conferences on these subjects.

JAMES H. CARTER is a partner in the New York office of Sullivan & Cromwell LLP and coordinator of its international arbitration practice. He is a graduate of Yale College and Yale Law School, attended Cambridge University as a Fulbright Scholar and served as law clerk to Hon. Robert P. Anderson of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. Mr. Carter is President of the American Society of International Law and Chairman of the Board of Directors of the American Arbitration Association and has chaired its Arbitration Law Committee. He is also a Past Chair of the American Bar Association Section of International Law and Practice and served as Chair of its Committee on International Commercial Arbitration. Mr. Carter has chaired both the International Affairs Council and the Committee on International Law of the Association of the Bar of the City of New York, as well as the International Law Committee and the International Dispute Resolution Committee of the New York State Bar Association. He also is a member of the London Court of International Arbitration and Vice President of its North American Council and a member of the Court of Arbitration for Sport.

MICHAEL G. COLLINS joined Fulbright & Jaworski L.L.P. as a special legal consultant in 2002 after practicing as a barrister in commercial law at Essex Court Chambers in London for almost 30 years. His principal areas of specialization include arbitration, insurance and reinsurance, shipping, and other contractual and tortious disputes of a technical or commercial nature. Mr. Collins regularly serves as an arbitrator in International Chamber of Commerce, London Court of International Arbitration, United Nations Commission on International Trade Law, London Maritime Arbitrators Association and other institutional and ad hoc cases. Mr. Collins received an LL.B (Honors) 1st Class from the University of Exeter, Devon, England in 1970. He was appointed Queen's Counsel in 1988, and served as a Recorder of the Crown Court between 1994 and 2001. He has authored several articles and frequently lectures at various international seminars and programs. Mr. Collins is a Fellow of both the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators and the Singapore Institute of Arbitrators, and is a member of the Advisory Board of the Institute for Transnational Arbitration. He is also a CEDR-accredited mediator.

BIOGRAPHIES

DONALD FRANCIS DONOVAN is a partner at Debevoise & Plimpton LLP in New York, where he concentrates his practice in international litigation and arbitration. He has argued arbitration law, international law, and commercial law issues before the International Court of Justice, the United States Supreme Court, other international tribunals, and other federal and state courts throughout the United States. He has conducted arbitrations under ICC, AAA, ICSID, and other rules in numerous venues throughout the world, and he regularly sits as arbitrator in international cases. Among other positions, Mr. Donovan is Chair of the ITA Advisory Board and Vice-President and one of two U.S. members of the International Council for Commercial Arbitration (ICCA), and among other publications, he is co-author of the United States Report in ICCA's International Handbook on Commercial Arbitration. He was recently appointed Adjunct Professor of Law at the NYU School of Law, where he will teach international arbitration. He joined Debevoise after serving as law clerk to Associate Justice Harry A. Blackmun of the United States Supreme Court and as legal assistant to the Honorable Howard M. Holtzmann of the Iran-United States Claims Tribunal.

MARK W. FRIEDMAN is a partner at Debevoise & Plimpton LLP. He is a London based American litigator with broad experience in U.S. and international disputes. He has represented clients in the federal and state trial and appeals courts and he regularly represents clients in international arbitrations involving parties and projects throughout the world. He has represented clients in arbitrations involving varied subjects, including shareholder rights, oil and gas interests, construction claims, and other commercial contracts. He has also represented clients in investment treaty arbitrations, including representing the investor in Central European Media Enterprises, Ltd. v. The Czech Republic. Mr. Friedman speaks and publishes on international arbitration topics. He is also a member of various international arbitration committees and associations, including serving as Vice-Chair of the ABA's International Commercial Dispute Resolution Committee, and membership in the ICC Arbitration Commission, the International Bar Association's Committee D, and other organizations.

JUDITH GILL is Head of Allen & Overy's International Arbitration Group. She graduated in Jurisprudence from Worcester College, Oxford University and joined Allen & Overy in 1983. In 1990 she obtained a Diploma in International Commercial Arbitration, with distinction, from Queen Mary and Westfield College, University of London and in 1998 qualified as a Solicitor-Advocate. Judith has been a partner in Allen & Overy since 1992. She has extensive experience in conducting all types of arbitration proceedings, both local and international, and frequently appears as advocate in arbitration proceedings. She is also regularly appointed as an arbitrator both by parties and by arbitral institutions, and has rendered awards both as sole arbitrator and as a member of panels. Judith is co-author of the last two editions of the leading textbook "Russell on Arbitration" and is a News Correspondent for International Arbitration Law Review. She is a Director and Court Member of the LCIA, a member of the ICC UK Arbitration Group, a Fellow of the Society of Advanced Legal Studies, a Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators and a Committee Member of the International Arbitration Club.

RAYNER M. HAMILTON is a retired partner of White & Case where he headed the International Arbitration Practice Group from 1985 through 2002, originally from New York but from Paris from 1999 through 2002. He also for many years headed the Firm's international litigation practice. He has conducted arbitrations under ICC, AAA, LCIA, ICSID, UNCITRAL and other rules, and under ad hoc procedures, at numerous venues around the world. He has served as an expert witness on New York law, and on many occasions as a party appointed or institution appointed arbitrator. Mr. Hamilton's undergraduate degree was in Engineering Physics from the University of Colorado, and his LLB from the University of Pennsylvania where he was Managing Editor of the Law Review. He has had extensive experience in arbitration/litigation arising out of construction or engineering contracts and/or other complex international contractual relationships.

BERNARD HANOTIAU is a lawyer with Hanotiau & Van Den Berg in Brussels and is also a member of the Paris Bar. A former participant in the Center for American and International Law's Academy of American and International Law, he has a Ph.D in Private International Law from Catholic University of Louvain and a Master of Laws degree from Columbia University. He is a trustee of the Center, a former president of the Club of International Arbitrators (Milan) and a member of the International Arbitration Club (London). He is Vice-Chairman of the Belgian Arbitration Center (CEPANI) and a member of the London Court of International Arbitration. He is an ICC Arbitrator and member of the panel of arbitrators of numerous institutions including ICSID and also acts frequently as arbitrator in UNCITRAL cases. Since 1978, Mr. Hanotiau has been actively involved in commercial arbitration as party appointed counsel or expert in various parts of the world in nearly 200 cases.

BIOGRAPHIES

HILARY HEILBRON QC is a barrister and Queen's Counsel practicing general commercial law and litigation and international arbitration in London from Brick Court Chambers. She also sits as an arbitrator acting as such in ICC, LCIA and ICDR arbitrations. She is also a Senior Counsel of NSW, Australia; a Deputy High Court Judge and an accredited mediator with CEDR. She is currently Deputy Chairman of the City Disputes Panel and Vice Chairman of the IBA International Litigation Committee. She is a former Chair of the London Common Law and Commercial Bar Association and of the International Practice Committee of the Bar Council of England and Wales and a former member of the CEDR Advisory Panel and the Civil Justice Council.

DR. PIERRE A. KARRER, a partner in Pestalozzi Lachenal Patry, Zurich, has been chairman, sole arbitrator, and party-appointed arbitrator in around 200 international commercial arbitrations in Switzerland and all over the world, ad hoc and with all major institutions. He acts as counsel to parties in arbitration and defends arbitral awards before the Swiss Federal Supreme Court. Dr. Karrer is Honorary President of the Swiss Arbitration Association, Vice President of LCIA, Court Member of ICC, FCI Arb of the Chartered Institute, and listed arbitrator of many institutions. After studies in Zurich, Göttingen, Padova, and The Hague, he obtained a Dr. iur., summa cum laude from the University of Zurich, and an LL.M. from Yale. He teaches International Arbitration at Zurich University. His publications include Switzerland's Private International Law, Commentary to Article 187 PIL Statute; and numerous articles on international arbitration. Dr. Karrer chairs arbitrations in English, French, German, and Italian. He also speaks Dutch and some Spanish.

GABRIELLE KAUFMANN-KOHLER, Professor at Geneva University Law School, where she teaches international dispute resolution, is also a partner of the Geneva Law firm of Schellenberg Wittmer, where she practices arbitration, both as arbitrator and counsel (over 100 cases, ad hoc and institutional, including ICC, ICSID, AAA, LCIA). She chairs the Swiss Arbitration Association (ASA) and is a member of the International Council for Commercial Arbitration (ICCA). She has published extensively on international commercial, sports, and investment arbitration, international litigation, electronic commerce and online commerce resolution, as well as international contracts. She is presently conducting a research project on the use of IT in international arbitration. She chaired the Arbitral Tribunal of the Olympic Games from its inception in 1996 (Atlanta) to 2000 (Sydney) and presently sits on the panel of the XXXII America's Cup.

DAVID LANE is a partner at Venable LLP in Washington D.C. and is a member of the Texas, Virginia, Maryland and District of Columbia bars. He received a J.D degree from Georgetown University in 1971, after having earned a Bachelor of Science degree in Engineering from Purdue University. He worked as practicing engineer for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration (NASA). Mr. Lane has developed substantial expertise in the negotiation, mediation and arbitration/litigation of disputes arising out of large and complex infrastructure, industrial and commercial construction projects. He has represented designers, owners, general contractors and subcontractors in disputes on a variety of projects including the construction of underground mass-transit systems, electrical generation facilities, pulp and paper mills, petrochemical process facilities and wastewater treatment plants. Mr. Lane has represented a number of clients and also served as an arbitrator in a number of complex industrial construction cases. He served as a member of the Council of the Section of Public Contract Law of the American Bar Association, and was appointed Chair of the Section's Construction Law Division.

DAVID LINDSEY is a partner in the New York office of Clifford Chance and leads the firm's International Arbitration Practice Group in the Americas. His practice focuses on international commercial contracts, power/energy projects, bilateral investment treaty claims, and other investment-related claims against sovereign nations, with special emphasis on Latin America. Mr. Lindsey has represented parties in arbitrations under the rules of the ICC, the LCIA, the AAA, ICSID, UNCITRAL and the Indian Arbitration Act. He also advises clients on protecting foreign investment through effective dispute resolution mechanisms. He has also tried cases in US federal and state courts in his 15 years of practice. Mr. Lindsey is a frequent lecturer and is editor and co-author of International Arbitration in Latin America (Kluwers Law International, 2002). Mr. Lindsey is listed in the 2003 Chambers Global "World's Leading Lawyers" and in the 2004 Chambers USA "Americas Leading Business Lawyers" in the field of international arbitration.

BIOGRAPHIES

CAROLE MALINVAUD is a partner at Gide Loyrette Nouel in Paris where she concentrates her practice in international litigation and more particularly arbitration for the last fourteen years. She has represented parties or served as arbitrator in many institutional and ad hoc arbitrations conducted in French, in English or in Spanish and relating in particular to infrastructure projects, protection of foreign investments, mergers, license and distribution contracts and joint venture contracts. She is a member of the ICC Commission on International arbitration. Carole Malinvaud holds a J.D. and a master degree from the University of Paris II, and a LL.M degree from Harvard law school. She is a member of the Paris and the New York bars.

FERNANDO MANTILLA-SERRANO is a partner at Shearman & Sterling in Paris, where he practices in transnational litigation and international arbitration. A graduate from the Pontificia Universidad Javeriana in Bogota where he received his Law degree (JD) and Economics degree (MSc), Mr. Mantilla-Serrano has also received a MCJ (LLM) from New York University (Fulbright Scholar), a DEA in International Private Law and International Trade and a DSU in EU Law from the Université de Paris II. He conducts arbitrations and appears as Counsel before arbitral tribunals in numerous venues, mainly in Europe, the United States and Latin America. Mr. Mantilla-Serrano is the Colombian member of the ICC International Court of Arbitration and Fellow of the Chartered Institute of Arbitrators. His articles on arbitration have been published in Arbitration International, the French Revue de l'Arbitrage and the Spanish Revista de la Corte Española de Arbitraje. He is admitted to the bars of Colombia, New York (USA), Paris (France) and Madrid (Spain).

HON. JOHN S. MARTIN, JR. served for 13 years as United States District Judge for the Southern District of New York. In October 2003, he joined the firm of Debevoise & Plimpton LLP as Of Counsel, where his practice includes serving as an arbitrator and mediator. Prior to his service as a judge, he had a variety of positions in Government including United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York (1980-1983) and Assistant to the Solicitor General of the United States (1967-1969). He also spent nineteen years in private practice as a litigator, handling a variety of complex civil and criminal cases. He is a graduate of Manhattan College and the Columbia Law School and a member of the American Bar Association and the American College of Trial Lawyers.

MICHAEL J. MOSER is a partner at Freshfields Bruckhaus Deringer, based in Hong Kong and Beijing. His practice includes advising on international business transactions in China and international arbitration and other forms of dispute settlement. Mr. Moser has acted as arbitrator, mediator or counsel in more than 70 international cases involving Asian and multinational companies. He is a member of the panel of arbitrators of CIETAC and a large number of other international arbitration bodies and was the first foreigner to sit as an arbitrator in China. He is on the Governing Council of the Hong Kong International Arbitration Centre (HKIAC) and is a member of the Asian Advisory Council of the American Arbitration Association (AAA). He is the author of numerous books and articles including, most recently, Hong Kong Arbitration (Kluwer 2004) and Arbitration in Asia (Butterworths 2003). Mr. Moser holds a JD degree from the Harvard Law School and a PhD from Columbia University.

PHILIPPE PINSOLLE is a partner at Shearman & Sterling LLP in Paris, and specializes in international arbitration. He is a member of the Paris Bar and of the Bar of England & Wales (Gray's Inn). He holds a J.D. degree from the university of Paris II, a M.Jur. from Oxford University, Hertford College, and an MBA degree from Essec. He is a lecturer on international arbitration at the University of Aix-Marseille III, and a co-founder of the Young Arbitration Practitioners (YAP), an informal group that organizes an annual conference with the support of the groups of young practitioners created by major institutions (the ASA, the LCIA, the IAI, the DIS and the CFA). He has represented multinational corporations, government-owned entities and governments in more than sixty international arbitrations involving such activities as investment, oil and gas, energy, telecom, construction, water concession, and defense. He has also acted as sole arbitrator and party-appointed arbitrator in institutional and ad hoc international arbitrations. He is the author of numerous articles and case-notes on international arbitration, and a member of the editorial board on international arbitration of the International Business Law Journal.

BIOGRAPHIES

MICHAEL E. SCHNEIDER is a partner in the Geneva based international law firm Lalive & Partners. For many years he has acted as counsel or arbitrator in a great variety of arbitration proceedings under varying rules, including ICC, LCIA, UNCITRAL, ICSID, UNCC, EDF, and arbitration centres in Cairo, Geneva, Stockholm, Vienna and elsewhere. His cases concern construction projects, natural resources, joint ventures and consortia, corporate matters, agency and other fields. He is one of the Vice-Chairs of the ICC Arbitration Commission, the Leader of its Forum on Arbitration and New Fields and was a member of the ICC Working Parties on the revision of the Arbitration Rules, on Construction Arbitration and on the Pre-Arbitral Referee Procedure. He is a member of the Executive Committee of the Swiss Arbitration Association (ASA) and leads its Geneva Group. He sat on several UNCITRAL Expert Groups and was Co-Chair IBA/SBL Committee T on International Construction Projects. He has taught at the Geneva Graduate Institute for International Studies and at the Centre for Studies at the Hague Academy and lectured on many other occasions.

ROBERT H. SMIT is a partner at Simpson Thacher & Bartlett LLP in New York, where he concentrates in international arbitration and litigation. He has served as counsel, arbitrator and expert in a wide variety of international arbitrations around the world. Among other things, Mr. Smit is one of the two U.S. members of the ICC International Court of Arbitration and a former Vice Chair of the International Bar Association's Committee on International Arbitration and ADR. Mr. Smit holds a J.D. degree from Columbia Law School and a D.E.A. degree from the University of Paris, where he also taught U.S. commercial law.

GUIDO SANTIAGO TAWIL, partner in M. & M. Bomchil in Buenos Aires, Argentina, where he heads the regulatory and international arbitration practices of his firm. Professor of Administrative Law and Public Utilities at the University of Buenos Aires, Universidad Austral and UCA. Member of different presidential and ministerial advisory committees in administrative regulations including the one actually in charge of drafting Argentina's Uniform Code of Legislation. Former Commissioner of Argentina's SEC and Secretary of Argentina's Federal Supreme Court of Justice. Former Chairman of the Buenos Aires Bar Young Lawyer's Division and current officer of the IBA's SERL Electricity Law Committee. Author of five books and over eighty articles and papers in matters related with his fields of practice. Awarded with the University of Buenos Aires Law School Award for the best doctoral dissertation and by the Buenos Aires Bar with the Alejandro E. Shaw Award for the best legal contribution. In his arbitration practice acts as counsel, expert witness or arbitrator in international arbitrations under ICC, LCIA and ICSID rules, with a special focus in regulatory disputes. He received his law degree, a master degree in Administrative Law and a Ph. D. in Administrative Law with the highest academic qualifications, all of them from the University of Buenos Aires Law School.

JOHN M. TOWNSEND is a partner in the Washington office of Hughes Hubbard & Reed LLP. He practices in the areas of international and domestic arbitration and litigation, and chairs the Firm's Arbitration and ADR Group. Mr. Townsend is a member of the Board of Directors of the American Arbitration Association and is also a member of the AAA's Executive Committee and the chair of the AAA's Law Committee. He served on the committees that drafted the AAA's Supplementary Rules for Class Arbitrations and the AAA's International Arbitration Rules. He was also a member of the group that represented the AAA in drafting the 2004 revisions to the AAA/ABA Code of Ethics for Arbitrators in Commercial Disputes. Mr. Townsend is a member of the Arbitration and Competition Law Committees as well as a Trustee of the U.S. Council for International Business (the U.S. arm of the ICC), a member of the Challenge Review Board of the CPR Institute for Dispute Resolution, a member of the American Law Institute, and a member and a director of the College of Commercial Arbitrators. He is a graduate of Yale University (B.A., 1968) and Yale Law School (J.D., 1971).