FREQUENTLY ASKED QUESTIONS

+ What is The Center for American and International Law

The Center for American and International Law is a nonpartisan Plano-based 501c3 nonprofit educational institution based in Plano, TX. As an advocate for the rule of law, CAIL works to improve the quality of the justice system through the provision of continuing education to lawyers and law enforcement officials in the United States throughout the world.

+ What is your organization's mission?

CAIL advances the administration of justice by educating and inspiring communities of legal and law-enforcement professionals throughout the world.

+ How can I partner or get involved with CAIL and its Institutes?

You can help CAIL and its institutes by supporting the funding for:

- Academy of American and International Law Scholarships – Scholarships will provide funding for tuition and room/board for participants from developing countries so that they can attend the Academy.
- Law Enforcement Ethics Scholarships -In a time when department budgets have been stretched to the limit, scholarships are used to provide critical ethics and diversity training for police officials.
- Visiting Fellows for our various institutes – CAIL's Visiting Fellows program brings distinguished law, law enforcement, or public service practitioners for a short yet comprehensive stay.

+ Where can I donate to CAIL?

Gifts of cash can be made directly to CAIL and sent to 5201 Democracy Drive, Plano, Texas, 75024. Online donations can be made at cailaw.org/donate. For questions regarding donations, please contact Rebecca Trejo, CAIL's director of donor engagement, by email at rtrejo@cailaw.org.

+ Ways to give to CAIL
