

THE CENTER FOR AMERICAN
AND INTERNATIONAL LAW

About the Legacy Society

Since 1947, CAIL has worked to improve the quality of justice through continuing education to lawyers and law enforcement officials in the United States and throughout the world.

The Legacy Society - a planned giving program - gives you the opportunity to ensure the sustainment of CAIL's important mission well into the future.

The Legacy Society's goals are to:

- Offer planned giving opportunities to CAIL members.
- Build financial support for CAIL to continue to fulfill its educational mission.
- Recognize members who have included a commitment to CAIL in their estate plans.

Leave your legacy today.

The Center for American and International Law (CAIL) is a nonprofit institution dedicated to improving the quality of justice through continuing education to lawyers and law enforcement officials in the United States and throughout the world.

Since 1947, tens of thousands of lawyers and law enforcement officers from all 50 states and 130 countries have participated in CAIL's high quality, cutting-edge programs.

Please join us as we look to the future.

Legacy Society

Securing quality continuing legal education for future generations

Why You Should Join

“I consider CAIL to be an important part of my professional development and have benefitted for many years from the high quality educational and networking opportunities it has provided.

I also believe that CAIL’s service to the international legal and law enforcement communities and advancement of the rule of law strengthens our society and improves our world.

To ensure that CAIL fulfills this important mission for many years to come, my wife, Kathy, and I have included CAIL in our estate planning, and we invite you to join us as members of the Legacy Society to sustain CAIL for future generations.”

Rick Plaeger
Former Senior Vice President and General Counsel
EOG Resources, Inc.

Benefits

- Reduced income taxes, gifts taxes or estate taxes.
- Greater flexibility in the gift size, type and designation.
- Your assets remain in your control during your lifetime.
- The ability to designate your gift to a particular Institute or purpose (we encourage you to discuss this with us to make sure your gift can be used as intended).
- The ability to make a larger gift to CAIL than would ordinarily be possible.

When you include CAIL in your estate plans, your generosity helps to improve the quality of justice and expand the rule of law in the United States and throughout the world.

Thank you for helping CAIL change the world.

Types of Gifts

There are many ways to leave a legacy gift and we are happy to provide information on all available options, including:

- Leaving a charitable bequest to CAIL in your will.
- Naming CAIL as a beneficiary in a life insurance policy, IRA or retirement plan.
- Charitable Lead Trusts.
- Charitable Remainder Trusts.

CAIL does not provide legal or tax advice and we always encourage members who are considering a planned gift to consult with their own financial advisor or attorney.
