

Galia Cohen, Ph.D.

Department Head and Assistant Professor

Department of Public Administration
School of Criminology, Criminal Justice and Public Administration
College of Liberal and Fine Arts
Tarleton State University

cohen@tarleton.edu

Dr. Galia Cohen is department head and assistant professor in the Department of Public Administration at Tarleton State University, Texas. She specializes in organizational behavior and development and has extensive experience teaching, training, and consulting in the public sector.

Dr. Cohen is an experienced professional development instructor conducting leadership development workshops and programs for public sector personnel across the United States. Her training topics include negotiation and conflict management, employee engagement, ethical use of power, managing multigenerational and diverse workforces, and many more.

Dr. Cohen manages the public administration department at Tarleton State University. She has published multiple peer-reviewed articles and teaches graduate-level courses in the Master of Public Administration (MPA) Program. Her research interests include Street level bureaucracy, police training, and administration and collaboration.

Dr. Cohen is an affiliated faculty member with The Law Enforcement Management Institute of Texas (LEMIT) in Huntsville, TX; The Institute for Law Enforcement Administration (ILEA) in Plano, TX; The NCSU Law Enforcement Executive Program (LEEP) in Raleigh, NC; and the USC Price Executive Leadership Development Program (ELDP) in Los Angeles, CA. She serves on advisory boards such as The Institute for Law Enforcement Administration (ILEA) and The Richardson Police Department Training Academy. She is also the nationally elected District V representative for the National Council of the American Society for Public Administration (ASPA) and the Book Review Editor for the premier journal in public administration, Public Administration Review (PAR).

Dr. Cohen holds a Ph.D. in Public Administration from The University of Texas at Dallas, an M.A. in Organizational Sociology from Bar-Ilan University, Israel, and a B.A. in Psychology also from Bar-Ilan University, Israel. She lives in Plano with her husband and two children.