COURSE OVERVIEW

12/2 - 12/3

Contemporary Issues and Ethics Conference

“Ethical Accountability and Leadership in Today’s Policing”

This conference promises to bring a broad range of discussion and resolutions to issues facing law enforcement today featuring national and international level presentations.

The cast of top flight presenters will address an A-Z assortment of discussions and valuable workshops from leading from the front to building good followers. Discussions on the state of policing today and what must be done in the future, and how to retire with your character intact join presentations on working programs that prevent misconduct before it occurs, and redeem disciplined officers.

The conference is open to all levels of law enforcement. Active members of the ILEA Alumni Association attend for free and are invited to attend an association sponsored lunch. Ethics trainers can also attend a special trainers’ roundtable breakout session.
